FINAL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE PARLIAMENTARY CONSTITUENCIES IN THE PRESERVED COUNTY OF WEST GLAMORGAN

The Commission propose to make no change to their provisional recommendations for five constituencies in the preserved county of West Glamorgan.

1. Provisional recommendations in respect of West Glamorgan were published on 5 January 2004. Objections to the provisional recommendations led to a public inquiry which was held in Swansea on 13 July 2004. The Assistant Commissioner who conducted the inquiry recommended no changes to the Commission's provisional recommendations. Having considered his report and recommendations and the evidence submitted, the Commission have decided to accept his recommendations and make final proposals accordingly.

Assistant Commissioner's Report

2. The Assistant Commissioner supported the Commission's decision to allocate five constituencies to West Glamorgan. One counter-proposal was received and discussed at the inquiry. The main issues raised in the counter-proposal were:

- (a) the transfer of the Blaengwrach, Glynneath, Pelenna and Resolven electoral divisions from the Neath constituency to the Aberavon constituency;
- (b) the transfer of the Clydach and Mawr electoral divisions from the Gower constituency to the Neath constituency;
- (c) the transfer of the Mayals electoral division from the Swansea West constituency to the Gower constituency.

The Blaengwrach, Glynneath, Pelenna and Resolven electoral divisions

3. The Assistant Commissioner reported that the counter-proposal proposed the transfer of the Blaengwrach, Glynneath, Pelenna and Resolven electoral divisions from the Neath constituency to the Aberavon constituency. He noted that this would reduce the electoral disparity between the Aberavon constituency and the other West Glamorgan constituencies but concluded that, when weighed against the resultant inconveniences and breaking of local ties, this did not justify the alteration of the constituency boundary between Neath and Aberavon.

The Clydach and Mawr electoral divisions

4. The Assistant Commissioner reported that the counter-proposal also proposed the transfer of the Clydach and Mawr electoral divisions from the Gower constituency to the Neath constituency. Having considered the evidence he concluded that the inconvenience and the break in local ties which would flow from the alteration were such that the alteration should not be made.

The Mayals electoral division

5. The Assistant Commissioner noted that the case put forward to transfer the Mayals electoral division from the Swansea West constituency to the Gower constituency was somewhat different in that the advantage of the proposal was that it would unite Mayals Community Council in one constituency. He accepted that the counter-proposal in respect of Mayals would have the effect of strengthening its ties with Mumbles, and of increasing the convenience with which the community council represents its area. However he accepted also that the alteration would break the ties with parliamentary and Assembly representation which had existed for 30 years or more and in respect of which there was little, if any, confusion. The Assistant Commissioner reported that it was his view that, 'the inconveniences and break in local ties which such an alteration would bring about is modest, and weighs in the balance against the main counter-proposal.'

Conclusion on the main-counter-proposal

6. The Assistant Commissioner's conclusion on the main counter-proposal was that the resulting improvement in electoral disparity was offset by the resulting inconvenience and break in local ties. He therefore recommended that the main counter-proposal should not be adopted.

Alternative counter-proposals

7. Further alternatives were proposed at the inquiry and these were considered by the Assistant Commissioner in his report. He considered that the alternative proposal of transferring Pelenna and Resolven electoral divisions to the Aberavon constituency, Mayals to the Gower constituency and Clydach to the Neath constituency was the most attractive in that it achieved a reduction in the electoral disparity between the constituencies with less disadvantage, in terms of inconvenience and break in local ties, than that associated with the main counter-proposal. Nevertheless he came to the view that this proposal should also be rejected on grounds of inconvenience and the breaking of local ties.

Final recommendations

8. After considering the Assistant Commissioner's report, the transcript of the inquiry and the written representations, the Commission decided to accept all of the Assistant Commissioner's recommendations and to confirm their provisional recommendations accordingly.
